

Ventura River Water:

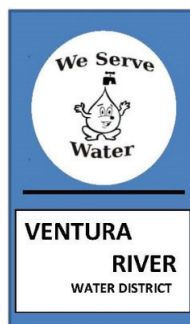

A Local, Collaborative Solution

As a collaborative partnership, a coalition of large local water users, which includes the City of Ventura, Ventura River Water District, Meiners Oaks Water District, the Wood-Claeysens Foundation (Taylor Ranch), Rancho Matilija Mutual Water Company, and other agricultural interests, is excited to share with you the proposed locally developed physical solution and settlement agreement for the Ventura River Watershed.

Collectively, the coalition believes this solution not only preserves and protects all reasonable and beneficial uses of water of the Ventura River Watershed, while implementing specific actions to return the fishery to good condition, but also demonstrates each negotiating party's commitment to being part of a local solution to protect the fishery and all those who rely upon the Ventura River.

Attached you will find a joint press release from the coalition. This press release, as well as other supporting documents, and the entirety of the physical solution being proposed, are available to access at www.venturariver.com.

If you have any questions related to these documents or the physical solution, please don't hesitate to reach out.
